BOREL'S DAY TO SHINE

JOCKEY, ABOUT TO DEPART FOR CALIFORNIA PILOTS THREE WINNERS AT LATONIA.

Wins Half the Card with Isabelle Valle, Sir Marior and Flabbergast-Weather Improves

a Bit.

Cincinnati, O., October 29.—Jockey Borei's large following reaped a harvest this afternoon when that rider accounted for half of the card of six races with Isabelle Valle. Sir Marion and Flabbergast, all at fair prices. It probably also marked Borel's farewell performance in this locality for this season, as he announced today that he would depart tomorrow for California to spend at his home the time intervening before the opening of Charleston racing, where he will rejoin the W. G. Yanke stable.

Borel inaugurated his successes with Isabelle Valle when that filly graduated from the maiden class in winning the opening dash. He followed with a victory on Sir Marion and C. Turner's absence from the track enabled him to ride Flabbergast, which won the handicap in which Sleeth and Morristown were opposed to the Turney three-year-old. Sleeth enjoyed favoritism over the other two starters, but Flabbergast held him safe at all times and won well in hand.

There was improvement in the weather today and, for a period, just before race time, the sun broke through the clouds. But soon a drizzling rain again began. The patronage was liberal this afternoon and the speculation was larger in volume than for several days. The racing was fairly interesting, even though the difficult track militated against it. The only close finish developed in the third race, a handicap for two-year-olds at three-quarters, in which Bronzewing and Bac fought it out at the end. Bronzewing won by a small margin. Anytime was the favored one in this race and flattered her backers by maintaining a good lead to the last turn, where Bronzewing slipped through along the inner rail and secured a good lead. Bac, forced to go wide and weakly handled, came fast at the end, but Bronzewing held on resolutely and won by a head. Cash on Delivery secred his fourth successive victory when he led home a fairly good band of sprinters in the fifth race. Sir Catesby was best in the closing race and galloped away from the others in the stretch racing. In the earlier rend a meeting of the Canadian Racing Associations, scheduled to be held at Toronto next Saturday. Important matters, it is said, will be discussed at this meeting.

E. L. Fitzgerald announced today his intention of sending a car load of racers to Juarez on the special train from here. M. R. Farmer is another who today engaged a car on the special, and W. E. Philips, after Isabelle Valle's victory, stated that he would take her and two yearlings to the Mexican course. James Butler will ship to Juarez from New York at least one carload of the extensive band of exarige of trainer R. C. Benson.

The W. G. Yanke consignment of fifteen racers will be shipped by express to Charleston immediately after the close of the Latonia meeting. Adair & Baker will also ship their string by express to Palmetto Park.

Present indications are that at least twenty cars of horses will make up the special train that will depart from Latonia direct for Palmetto Park on November 17. There will be three sleepers for the racin, hesides diners, day coaches and baggage cars. Jockey Kederis will leave for his home in California tomorrow night. He will be accompanied by Florenz Israel, who looked after his riding interests and made his engagements on the Canadian tracks and at Saratoga.

Barney Schreiber was an arrival today from Laurel and will remain here for several days.

Most of the breeders who came to dispose of their homes today well pleased with results and the good prices obtained by the Kentucky Sales Company for their stock.

LONG SHOT YEAR IN ENGLISH RACING.

Favorites have had a disastrous time of it this year in the greater events of the English turf. The Two Thousand Guineas, Epsom Derby and Donsater St. Leger all went to the rankest of outsiders, as did many others of the most important fixtures, so that altogether it has been as a year of distress and bewilderment to the turf prophets. On all hands it is agreed that 1913 has been a record year in this particular feature. Some of the striking examples are the following:

NO CURTAILMENT AT HURRICANA.

New York, October 29.—John Sanford's French stud, to which he recently shipped several broodmares and the stallion Voter, is in close proximity to the stock farms of H. B. Buryea and George Jay Gould, both of whom are enthusiastic breeders of thoroughbreds. The peculiar rules governing racing in France make it necessary for a horse to be foaled in that country to be eligible for the stake races; and this fact probably more than any other condition has led to the establishment of so many Areerican breeding farms in that land.

Mr. Sanford has no idea of giving up the breeding of horses, in this country. Far from it, in fact, the Hurricana Stock Farm at Amsterdam, N. Y., will be conducted as heretofore, and a large string of the Sanford name and fame.

The Hurricana Stock Farm has been inseparably identified with racing in this country for a score of years. The place was founded by the late Gen. Stephen Sanford, and was one of his most cherished projects.

DAY OF CLOSE FINISHES AT LAUREL.

Spring Board Fails to Make Weight Concession Re quired in Handicap and Isidora Wins.

quired in Handicap and Isidora Wins.

Baltimore, Md., October 29.—Close finishes marked the racing at Laurel this afternoon. The first five races were marked by hard end drives and all but the first were won by a head or neck. A handicap for all ages was the program feature and the public choice was Capt. E. B. Cassatt's Spring Board, carrying top weight of 120 pounds. Spring Board's performances have been first-class at this track, but his trainer, J. Simon Healy, was none too confident that his horse could carry 120 pounds and beat those opposed to him today. Spring Board, Healy said, had never won except at a hunt meeting with more than 116 pounds up. The winner was Capt. P. M. Walker's Isidora, which got home a narrow nargin in advance of Progressive. The latter ran along the rail in the worst going or he might have won. Spring Board could never get to the front and, after showing a flash of speed to the head of the stretch, retired.

Bachelor was much touted for the steeplechase, but he was put out of the running early by coming a cropper. Shannon River, after toilowing the pace set by Handrunning to the turn into the main track, came resolutely and managed to beat Syosset in a hard drive. The latter three-year-old ran a remarkably good race. He was conceding much by the scale to all the other starters.

A half-mile track horse, Capt. Burns, with 118 pounds, up, was returned winner of the fifth. Ortyx was the public choice, but when it came to a drive in the last fifty yards, he faltered and Capt. Burns got home first.

Merry Lad was disqualified after finishing third in the sixth race for crowding Henotic and Haldeman against the fence in the last sixteenth and Butwell was suspended for the remainder of the meeting.

George W. Langdon is no piker when it comes to moving his horses. Today, following the English custom, he sent Addie M., his Walden representative, and Charlestonian, also named for that mile race, to Pimlico in an auto van.

C. T. Boots has shipped the nine horses he had at Sheepshead Bay to

MARTIN STABLE RESTING AT NORFOLK.

Norfolk, Va., October 29.—Former jockey William Martin has arrived at the Jamestown track with his entire stable, numbering 12 head. Five of them are Canadian-bred two-year-olds. Of the older horses, five will be raced throughout the approaching aff-teen-days autumn meeting of the Jamestown Jockey Club, heginning on Thursday, November 13, with the Merchants' Selling Stakes as the feature. The Martin racers, despite an arduous campaign in Canada and Maryland, are nearly all in good condition, but as Martin has selected the Jamestown track, with its mild weather conditions, as his permanent wintering grounds, he decided to rest while the Pimlico meeting is going on. He is located in the same barn that he occupied last winter.

permanent wintering grounds, he decided to rest while the Pimilico meeting is going on. He is located in the same barn that he occupied last winter.

Martin's speedy chestnut gelding, Rye Straw, which showed over the Jamestown course to advantage last spring, is eligible for the inaugural feature, the Merchants' Schling Stakes, three-quarters of a mile. Rye Straw has only recently recovered from a slight indisposition. For the two major features of the stake program, the Monticello Hotel Handicap, to be run on Saturday, November 22, and the Thanksgiving Selling Handicap, Martin has named three of his best horses in The Rump, Cogs and Kayderoseros. The Rump was a frequent winner on the Canadian C.cuit. Though he still has a sour disposition, he is good right now and is likely to figure prominently in Jamestown racing. Cogs was also sick at Laurel, his temperature being loft at one time, but he, too, has recovered. Kayderoseros is rounding to his best form, and may be a starter in one of these two stakes, but the other two have shown better than he. It is Martin's intention later on to put Kayderoseros in the stud. Jockey Richard Watts, the Martin stable apprentice rider, remained at Laurel to ride out the meeting, but will join the string here next week.

One of Martin's ideas to freshen up his horses is to give them salt water baths daily. Thus the ordinary stable routine of this Canadian trainer is being varied somewhat during the present week and, the thoroughbreds, apparently enjoying their plunge to the utmost, are driven into the water on the beach adjacent to the Jamestown track twice daily before their rub down.

His two-year-olds, five in number, are Our Mabelle, Diamond Cluster, Howard Legov, Sykesie and Cobourg Belle. Our Mabelle is a half-sister to Pandorina, winner of this year's Kentucky Endurance Stakes and Martin string, is a likely-looking prospect for winter racing, after having had illinek and being out of good condition during most of the summer. This horse will in all probability be sent to

The delegates discussed the question of the introduction of pari-mutuel machines for betting purposes. The matter was temporarily disposed of by deciding to make inquiries in the United States.

That there will be a split in the Western Canada Racing Circuit in a few years, probably next year, seemed to be the opinion prevailing at the convention. While the difficulties for this year were overcome by a slight re-arrangement of dates as recommended by the special committee, the situation as at present is by far from satisfactory to all cities. Several suggestions were made for re-arrangement, including one from Dr. Bell of Winnieg, that smaller cities of the circuit unite. The dissatisfaction over dates is mostly felt in smaller cities.

A. S., Chicago. A field horse having won, bets on Caller Ou in race 12288 won.

H. McG., Norfolk, Va. Such an occurrence as mutuel tickets to show on a horse paying more than its straight tickets might have happened, but it is improbable and we have no record of it.

W. B. S., Toronto, Ont. What a time limit to a bet means should be distinctly understood when the bet is made. The layer makes the limit and it is for, him to say whether it includes the time spent at the post, or in running the race, or not. In the case cited by you the bet was not in time if the limit expired when the horses went to the post.

FEATURES OF FIZ YAMA'S CESAREWITCH.

Taken all round, the competitors bore a well-trained appearance. Particularly was this the case with Fantasio, Night Hawk and Wagstaff, which all showed the care which had been taken with them. Another well liked was Warlingham, last year's winner; but Grave Greek was considered by some good judges to be looking light. Rivoli was noticed to be sweating freely, but this is something of a habit with him and he was fit enough. It was a quarter of an hour after the advertised time that the lot were despatched. Candytuft made a good page to begin with, and led from Grave Greek, Wagstaff and Fiz Yama, with Night Hawk, Rivoli and Winthorpe in their heels. This order was kept for nearly a mile and a half, where Night Hawk had had enough and lost his place. Candytuft, too, gave way hereabouts, and was passed by both Fiz Yama and Grave Greek, both of which were traveling smoothly, while just behind the pair were Wagstaff and Rivoli, with Lavaine also going well, working his way through. From the moment that Candytuft resigned the lead, however, it became apparent that the two leaders would take a lot of catching, and a thrilling finish between the pair ensued. From below the distance they ran stride for stride, but Grave Greek could go no faster than his rival sand suffered defeat by a head. Lavaine filled third position, while Wagstaff was placed fourth by the judge. The first and second ran close together, and there were some who thought an objection might follow, but we were spared this, and so the race passed into the records.—London Sporting Life.

race passed into the records.—London Sporting Life.

Although Fiz Yama started at the long odds of 50 to 1 for the Cesarewitch, he had on various occasions been backed at much shorter prices. Before his bead defeat by Daly's at Windsor he was backed at 1,000 to 40, and a day or two before he ran fourth to Balscadden and Grave Greek for the Newbury Cup as little as 20 to 1 was taken and offered. Again, prior to Nottingham, where he inished only ninth to Grave Greek, he had backers for small sums at 33 to 1, so that he was not exactly a "skinner" for holders of future event books, while yesterday there were a number of small investments of "ives," "threes," and single sovereigns for him, together with occasional "tenners." On the whole though, the books must have won as largely over the success of the son of Santoi as they would have lost had Grave Greek managed to get his head in front.

While the events which led up to the decision of the Cesarewitch were not of the extraordinary character associated with the St. Leger, yesterday's race was not altogether free from sensation, as a horse whose chance was so little considered that he the Cesarewitch were not of the extraordinary character associated with the St. Leger, yesterday's race was not altogether free from sensation, as a horse whose chance was so little considered that he was on offer at 50 to 1 gained the verdict by a horse whose chance was so little considered that he was on offer at 50 to 1 gained the verdict by a head after a tremendous struggle with another which started at 100 to 8, while third place went to one on the 160 to 6 mark. Fiz Yama appeared to be held safe by Grave Greek, for the pair met on exactly similar terms both at Newbury and Nottingham. At the Berkshire meeting Mr. Morrison's horse finished second to Balscadden, with Fiz Yama fourth, and at Nottingham the last-named only finished ninth to Grave Greek over the two-mile course. The first mile and a quarter of the Cesare-witch takes place out of sight, and when the field rounded the bend Grave Greek was in front and held command to the Bushes, about a quarter of a mile from the finish, where he was challenged by Fiz Yama, which got the best of the fighting by a narrow margin, L. de Rothschild's Lavaine being third and the favorite, Wagstaff, fourth, The winner is trained by Major Morris at Aston, and since scoring at Kempton Park in May, he had shown very useful form over long distances. In the Ascot Stakes, by the way, Fiz Yama gave Grave Greek six bounds and finished in front or him, so that yesterday's running saw that form reproduced.

It escaped notice in the turnoil of Cesarewitch day that Fiz Yama is the second of Santol's progeny to carry off the big handiean. Santol was himself a great stayer, and most of his offspring 'follow in father's footsteps.' Yentol was his first Cesarewitch winner and one over which his owner, Lady De Bathe, pocketed $60,600. Santol has the Derby, which his people still believe he was robbed of by downright bad luck, the Ballykisteen sultan would now figure very high up in the list of winning stallions.—London Sportsman.

CORCYRA'S MIDDLE PARK PLATE RACE.

The Second October fixture at Newmarket wound up in magnificent autumn weather yesterday says London Sportsman of October 18. The conditions really left nothing to be desired, but the results of most of the races were contrary to expectations and were more in favor of the bookmaker than the backer. Partisanship between Stornoway and Corcyra in the Middle Park Plate ran high, first one and then the other being favorite. Both had been highly tried and their respective trainers were equally sauguine. Stornoway had rather better public form than Lord Londonderry's colt, therefore he had just the market call at flag fiall, albeit there was only a fractional difference between them. Pereival Keene's victory on Thurday seemed to have enhanced the prospects of his half brother, for the pair had recently been galloping together and the two-year-old had come out with flying colors on many occasions.

The Middle Park Piate has often decided which is the season's best two-year-old. Matters were different this year, as The Tetrarch was not entered. Corcyra and Stornoway therefore had to battle it out between them, and Lord Londonderry's youngsier, which created a favorable inuression at Doncaster, came through triumphant. He did not move off from the gate as smartly as Stornoway, which at the Bushes was racing freely in Frank Wootton's hands, and was running on a tight rein. Corcyra moved up to him at the top of Bushes Hill, where Maher spurted his mount, and secured first run on his rival half way down the descent. Ride as he would, Frank Wootton on Stornoway could never get to Corcyra again, the son of Polymelus securing a decisive victory. One is happy to congratulate Lord Londonderry upon the possession of a good horse, and one that promises to make up into a top sawyer as a three-year-old. His was unquestionably the most popular victory of the whole week, both Lord and Lady Londonderry coming in for much congratulation. Kennymore, which was a fair third behind Corcyra and Stornoway, was making his bow to public life, and right well did the half-brother to Sarcelle run. Like his sire, John o'Gaunt, he is framed on a big scale, though he has been given plenty of time in which to develop and grow to his frame.

MAHER'S VARYING WAYS OF RIDING.

One of the outstanding features of the Second October celebration has undoubtedly been the splendid riding of Maher, who has been Irequently compared with Fordham, Archer and other great proficients in the art of race riding in the past. The charm of his riding has been in its wonderful variety, for, great as was his effort in each instance, the method was distinctly different where Prue, Radway and Borrow were severally concerned, and in each instance it was a masterpiece. As regards Lord Rosebery's filly first named it was an exhibition of delicate handling and supreme patience that got her home a neck in front of Arda for the Newmarket Oaks; in striking contrast Radway had to be vigorously ridden every yard of the way to win the Ditch Mile Nursety, and Borrow's success in the Challenge Stakes showed us another variety of brilliant skill and power, in which his "postman's knock" in the last stride figured prominently and, be it added, the finish between him and Wootton on that particular occasion was one of the tit-bits of the week, for each excelled himself. Maher has exceeded the century of winning mounts, coveted by every jockey, and holds a lead which should ensure his finishing once more at the top of the tree, but Wootton's record is also worthy of his great fame, bearing in mind how severely he is handi-capped by increased weight and health perhaps not too robust.—"Vigilant," in London Sportsman.

NOTES OF THE TURF.

The horses owned by Hon, John S. Hendric and George M. Hendric, will probably be transferred from Woodbine to the Valley Farm at Hamilton this week to go into winter quarters.

several mares have been sent from New Zealand Australia to be mated with St. Savin, now at the Woodlands Stud in New South Wales. Among the foals reported there is one by St. Savin from Ima Dufour.

Aima Dutour.

The Governor's Cup of 3,000 rupees, one mile and a quarter, run at Colombo, Ceylon, last month, was won by the English-bred mare, Santoinette. In the Turf Club Plate, one mile and three-quarters, Ellenora, which finished second in the cup, beat Santoinette by a head. Both mares are by Santol.
